INCREASE IN NUMBER, LENGTH AND SPEED OF TRAINS ON THE LOUISVILLE & INDIANA RAILROAD BETWEEN LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY, AND SEYMOUR, INDIANA

On or soon after September 1, 2016, at 12:01 a.m., there will be increases in train traffic on the Louisville and Indiana Railroad (LIRC) between Louisville, Ky., and Seymour, Ind.

CSX Transportation (CSXT) and LIRC train speeds will increase incrementally over a period of several weeks from the current speed limit of 25 mph to a maximum of 49 mph at many locations. Track and signal improvements have been made to allow for the safe increase in train speeds in accordance with federal regulations.

The number and average length of CSXT trains will also increase. CSXT currently operates three to four trains per day on the LIRC rail line. This number will initially increase to an estimated 10 CSXT trains per day between Louisville, Ky., and Seymour, Ind., and may increase in the future. Train length may be up to 14,000 feet long. The number and length of CSXT trains will vary and continue to adjust depending on rail freight volumes.

Motorists and pedestrians are reminded to always obey railroad crossing signals and warnings and to use caution when approaching all highway-rail grade crossings. A train can come at any time, so "stop, look and listen" before proceeding through an open crossing.

Operation Lifesaver, a nationwide public education program to promote awareness of safe behavior at highway-rail crossings, is available for safety presentations to community groups, school children, bus and truck drivers and others who live or travel near train tracks. To schedule a presentation, contact your local Operation Lifesaver state coordinator: in Indiana at www.inol.org and in Kentucky at www.kyol.org.

These operational changes on LIRC are part of an agreement between LIRC and CSXT which was approved in April 2015 by the federal Surface Transportation Board. Through that agreement, CSXT is funding approximately $100 million in infrastructure improvements to support increased train traffic from both railroads over the LIRC line.

These changes will provide enhanced rail access for the Port of Indiana-Jeffersonville, increase capacity and efficiency along this corridor and improve connectivity for manufacturers, farmers, marine ports and other contributors to the area's economic growth.

Since last summer when the agreement was approved, representatives from the railroads have held meetings with community leaders to provide project status updates and to address concerns related to public safety, anticipated increases in freight volume and construction plans. CSXT and LIRC will continue to share information with community leaders and residents as the project progresses, in addition to completing construction projects and making operational improvements that are designed to reduce the impacts on the local environment and communities.

For more information about the project or with questions, please call 812-258-9523 or 1-877-TELL CSX (835-5279). More information about LIRC is available at www.anacostia.com/railroads/lirc and more information about CSXT is available at www.csx.com.

Restaurant employees fired for refusing to serve officer

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — Two employees have been fired after denying service to a uniformed D.C.-area police officer at a Noodles & Company restaurant.

News outlets report Noodles & Company released a statement Thursday confirming that two of its employees at the Alexandria, Virginia, restaurant were fired. The statement says "discrimination of any kind is never tolerated at Noodles & Company," and extends an apology to the Alexandria Police Department.

Alexandria police spokeswoman Crystal Nosal previously said a female officer in uniform went Monday evening to the restaurant and stood in line. She says a female cook came out from the back and told the cashier, "You better pull me off the line, because I'm not cooking for," then gestured at the officer.

Nosal says the cashier laughed and the officer left.

The cook and the cashier were the employees fired.

California wildfire big and getting bigger

BIG SUR, Calif. (AP) — Firefighters struggled Thursday to get the upper hand on a massive wildfire burning along California's picturesque Big Sur coastline, where anxious residents driven from their homes awaited word on their properties and popular parks and trails closed at the height of tourist season.

The blaze spanning 42 square miles (109 square kilometers) has destroyed at least 34 homes and put at least 2,000 buildings at risk. A 35-year-old father of two girls was killed this week when the bulldozer he was operating rolled over on the fire lines.

The fire has burned for a week and is only 10 percent contained. California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection estimated it will take until the end of August to extinguish it.

"Every day the fire is gaining ground on us," Cal Fire Battalion Chief Robert Fish said. "The weather and steep and rugged terrain is taking its toll. So we'll make progress, but then the fire is making progress faster than we can keep pace with."

Firefighters worked in rugged terrain near State Highway 1 in an area that draws tourists from around the world for the dramatic vistas of ocean and mountains.

Heavy fog a factor in early Sunday morning accident at 'T' which injures five

by MARTY RANDALL
Staff Writer

Fog is never a good thing to encounter, especially when driving during the early morning hours.

Five young men in a 2003 Mazda found that out the hard way around 2:50 a.m. on Sunday, July 24. The car's driver apparently could not determine that he had actually reached the T intersection of State Road 56 East and Slab Road as the car was being driven south on Slab Rd.

Consequently, driver Patrick W. Combs, 19, Austin, told

Deputy James Shelton that the car ran off the road and into a deep ditch on the south side of S.R. 56. The Mazda flipped and landed on its roof.

Four of the young men were able to get out of the wrecked car, but passenger Devon Vires, 20, Austin, was discovered by Deputy Shelton still in the car.

Scott County EMS and the Scottsburg Volunteer Fire Department were called to the scene. Vires was soon taken out of the car. He had suffered a possible neck injury.

Combs was listed with back pain as was front seat passenger Nathaniel Blakely, 17, Lexington. Austin Bellamy, 18, had an injury to his elbow/lower arm, and David T. Jessup, 18, Lexington, experienced neck pain.

All were transported by ambulance to Scott Memorial Hospital for additional treatment.

The officer noted all of the young men had been using their seat belts at the time of the accident.

Speed may have been a factor in the mishap. Deputy Shelton stated, Property damage was estimated at up to $25,000. Deputy Joe Johnson assisted at the scene.

INCREASE IN NUMBER, LENGTH AND SPEED OF TRAINS ON THE LOUISVILLE & INDIANA RAILROAD BETWEEN LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY, AND SEYMOUR, INDIANA

On or soon after September 1, 2016, at 12:01 a.m., there will be increases in train traffic on the Louisville and Indiana Railroad (LIRC) between Louisville, Ky., and Seymour, Ind.

CSX Transportation (CSXT) and LIRC train speeds will increase incrementally over a period of several weeks from the current speed limit of 25 mph to a maximum of 49 mph at many locations. Track and signal improvements have been made to allow for the safe increase in train speeds in accordance with federal regulations.

The number and average length of CSXT trains will also increase. CSXT currently operates three to four trains per day on the LIRC rail line. This number will initially increase to an estimated 10 CSXT trains per day between Louisville, Ky., and Seymour, Ind., and may increase in the future. Train length may be up to 14,000 feet long. The number and length of CSXT trains will vary and continue to adjust depending on rail freight volumes.

Motorists and pedestrians are reminded to always obey railroad crossing signals and warnings and to use caution when approaching all highway-rail grade crossings. A train can come at any time, so "stop, look and listen" before proceeding through an open crossing.

Operation Lifesaver, a nationwide public education program to promote awareness of safe behavior at highway-rail crossings, is available for safety presentations to community groups, school children, bus and truck drivers and others who live or travel near train tracks. To schedule a presentation, contact your local Operation Lifesaver state coordinator: in Indiana at www.inol.org and in Kentucky at www.kyol.org.

These operational changes on LIRC are part of an agreement between LIRC and CSXT which was approved in April 2015 by the federal Surface Transportation Board. Through that agreement, CSXT is funding approximately $100 million in infrastructure improvements to support increased train traffic from both railroads over the LIRC line.

These changes will provide enhanced rail access for the Port of Indiana-Jeffersonville, increase capacity and efficiency along this corridor and improve connectivity for manufacturers, farmers, marine ports and other contributors to the area's economic growth.

Since last summer when the agreement was approved, representatives from the railroads have held meetings with community leaders to provide project status updates and to address concerns related to public safety, anticipated increases in freight volume and construction plans. CSXT and LIRC will continue to share information with community leaders and residents as the project progresses, in addition to completing construction projects and making operational improvements that are designed to reduce the impacts on the local environment and communities.

For more information about the project or with questions, please call 812-258-9523 or 1-877-TELL CSX (835-5279). More information about LIRC is available at www.anacostia.com/railroads/lirc and more information about CSXT is available at www.csx.com.
